OBITUARY.

Max Carpleman.

Following an illness of four days due to blood poisoning Max Carpleman died in the Bathing hospital on Thursday forenoon. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon from his late home on High street and the service was conducted by Rev. Samuel Sobel. Friends filled the places of bearers and burial took place in the Brothers of Joseph cemetery at Brewster's Neck.

Mr. Carpleman was 44 years old and was born in Russia the son of Harris and Shifra Chornofsky Carpleman. For a number of years he had made his home in Norwich and was a peddler. He leaves his father, sisters and brothers in this city. Mr. Carpleman was industrious and was a good citizen. He was well known among the Hebrew residents of the city. Undertakers Shea and Burke had charge of the funeral arrangements.

High Prices for Books.

Volumes in modern bindings which sell for $1,000 to $2,500 each are by no means uncommon. Not long ago, for instance, a set of Dickens was published in America, the price per volume being $1,000, each book being bound in vellum and encased in a basket of white silk and leather.

Home in a New Class.

Miss Sanborn's cook, hearing of the immense grain bills, advised, "If I were you, miss, I wouldn't keep any cows this winter, except the horse."

Varying Weights in Use.

The German pound is exactly one-half a kilogram, or about one-tenth more than the American and English pound.

HUMIDITY DOES IT.

Thursday Was the Hottest Day of the Summer, but Not Because of Thermometer.

In spite of the facts that the mercury registered only 82 on Thursday and that it went up to 95 in the self-same tube only one o'clock later, so, as so, yesterday was the hottest day of the summer. At least it's a debatable question, for by hotness, it seems to me, is not the thermometer, but the feeling of the body.

As we have said before, in discussing the weather-humid, it was not the thermometer, but the feeling of the body. As we have said before, in discussing the weather-humid, it was not the thermometer, but the feeling of the body.

AT THE DAVIS THEATRE.

Concert Programme and Playlets. The evolution of the photoplay, to meet the increasing demands placed upon it by the critical and the public, and the new standards that have been reached is brought to mind afresh when the films are used as the medium for a story such as that of the Brute, which made a strong impression upon the many who saw the midweek change of bill at the Davis theatre on Thursday.

The feature film at the Auditorium for Thursday was one of great interest, entitled "The Girl in the Red Dress," a two reel 1914 film. The vaudeville performance opened with Dubois and Young, a pair of classy singers and comedians. Jack Onri, comedy juggler, is one of the best jugglers that has been on the local stage. To wind up the vaudeville Leo and Chapman caused much laughter in their novel skit "Watch the Mule," a comedy symmetrical hodge-podge. They made a big hit with their mule act.

Child's Outlook Encouraging. The little daughter, 1-1/2 years old, of Samuel Hartmann of Bozrahville, who was bit Monday by an automobile wheel, is doing better than was expected to do, at the Backus hospital. Her skull was fractured, but she was holding her own Thursday.

Stole Bicycle on Broadway. Alfred Hensault, who lives at 35 Hobart avenue, left his bicycle on Broadway, outside the Y. M. C. A. building, at 54 Thursday morning and when he came out at 9.30 the wheel was gone. He notified the police.

BUY-OLGY

Advertising may be said to have created a new science—that of BUY-OLGY.

BUY-OLGY is the art of buying things most wisely to your needs at the right time and at the lowest market price.

Advertising makes this practical by bringing to your home, day after day, the story of the markets of the world as told in your daily newspaper.

The reader of advertising becomes an adept in the new science of BUY-OLGY and profits accordingly.

PRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength in guarantee to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear; while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Incidents in Society

Miss Dorothy Gregson of Norwich entertained friends from Norwich at her Neptune Park cottage Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ellery Allen of Norwich have left Noank for a visit in Maine, making the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Allen of Huntington place have for their guest George William Thompson of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. William H. Allen of Huntington place has returned from a brief visit at Mrs. Wattle's "Best Cottage" Fishers Island.

Mrs. Ebenezer Allen, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Allen in Springfield, Mass., has returned to her home on Washington street.

Miss Helen M. Lathrop, who has been the guest for several days of her brother, Adamson P. Lathrop in New York, has returned to her home on Washington street.

Hammock Comfort. If you want solid comfort this summer, hang your hammock under the trees, then place another old hammock or piece of canvas, stretched out flat, three or four feet above it. Sew on the "upper berth" mosquito netting, letting it hang to the ground. The ends of the netting may be held together with hangers. Safe behind the screen flies and mosquitoes will not bother you.—Woman's World.

Hands Off. A farmer was going through an art institution where a number of models of ancient Greek sculpture was exhibited. He noticed that on each one hung a placard saying, "Hands Off." "What'n thunder do they have to tell ye every time that the hands is off?" he exclaimed at last. "Do they reckon we can't see it? An' why don't they never say anything 'bout the arms and legs bein' off, too?"

Black and White Net Colors. Strictly speaking neither black nor white is a color, white being a combination of all the seven primary colors, and black being an absorption of all. Bodies that reflect all the rays of the sun are called white; those that reflect some rays and absorb others are called red, blue, green, etc.; those that absorb all the rays and reflect none are called black.

Cromwell. Cromwell had no royal blood in his veins. The contention that such was the case failed when put to the test. The Old Protector belonged to what is known as the "Gentry." His only rank lay in his genius and unconquerable will-power. His "blood" was just plain English blood, and could in no way claim to have "crept through scoundrels ever since the flood."

Be as Airtight. Corks may be made to seal cask airtight. If they are slightly larger than tops of bottles they should be rolled in clear water for 20 minutes; this decreases their size, says the St. Louis Star. Insert in mouths of bottles while hot; they will expand in cooling, and in this way make perfectly airtight stoppers.

See Life in Right Light. Hold your dull life up to the light, and see how it will be transfigured. Life is not meant to be a path of ease, but steep and rugged; and it is only through self-denial, discouragement, discipline and trial that you may attain the higher life—Light on the Hidden Way.

General Cole Chief Umpire. The chief umpire will be Brigadier General George M. Cole, the senior umpire for the Red army, Major Edward A. Shuttleworth, U. S. A.

Social precautionary measure. Social precautionary measure will be taken to see that only blank cartridges are in the ammunition issued to the men. Each box of cartridges is inspected before being passed out, and it sometimes happens that a cartridge is found to be a blank cartridge. The men will also be given orders not to fire at any other body which is less than 100 yards distant, unless an umpire is present. At the command to cease firing the men are to hold their gun muzzles toward the ground, keeping them in that position while waiting for the decision of the umpire.

The men are to leave camp tomorrow about 1 p. m. and will be back in camp about eight o'clock Saturday morning. This is a change from the schedule previously announced, but it is done to allow the postmaster to pay off the men Saturday morning. The camp will be broken during the afternoon and the men will reach their home stations either late Saturday afternoon or early in the evening.

A Strenuous Rest. Colonel Roosevelt's devoted followers are out of breath trying to keep up with his movements while the Colonel is taking six weeks of absolute rest prescribed by his doctor.—Chicago News.

Chance for Speculation. Now that West Virginia has gone dry it will be interesting to see whether the consumption of drink in the United States continues to increase.—Springfield Republican.
